DESCRIPTION

This modern townhouse in the pretty town of Altea la Vella, has been designed according to the German building standards and was completed in 2012. The 3-level building with attic has the private garage next to the entrance and the Spanish patio/courtyard on the same floor. On the first floor are the 3 bedrooms with built in closets and their with bathroom en-suite. On the second floor is the spacious living area with log-fireplace, open plan kitchen with BOSCH equipment and separate dining corner and an open terrace with street view. On the top floor is the sun lounge terrace with awnings and a summer kitchen and beautiful views. This building is a ferroconcrete construction with massive brick walls with a high-class execution and has a high insulation in walls, double glazed windows, air conditioning, real oak parquet floor in bedrooms, oil-fired central heating with radiators, solar energy and much more which we will show you during the visit. Next to the main house with a possibility to make a connection between the two, is an independent office of 60 m2 with kitchenette and bathroom designed in the same style and use of materials. A very unique house for a special client.
